

West Toronto Diamond Grade Separation Construction January 2011

The Georgetown South Project will provide infrastructure improvements to meet existing GO Transit ridership demand and future growth. It will also accommodate the new Air Rail Link service between Union Station and Pearson International Airport.

What Are We Doing?

As outlined in the approved Environmental Assessment, this construction project will separate GO commuter rail traffic from other rail traffic in the corridor as well as car/pedestrian/bicycle traffic. This will provide safer, more efficient scheduling for all current and future GO service in the corridor. This construction project will also support the new Air Rail Link from Union Station to Pearson International Airport. The grade separation is scheduled to be complete in 2014.

What's Happening Now?

We are beginning the pile validation phase. Dufferin Construction Company will replace soil from within the interlocking pipe piles with concrete and fill the connections with sealing materials to create a water-tight wall. In some cases, deficient piles need to be removed and replaced. We will also test the capability of the wall to resist water.

How Will This Impact You?

This work will create normal construction noise. Standard augering equipment will be used to remove soil from within the piles and vibration equipment will be used to install sheet piles. Impact and vibration equipment will be used to remove and re-install deficient pipe piles. Nearby residents may also hear the background noise (humming) of a water pump and compressed air systems used to test water tightness.

Work will take place during regular construction hours from 7 a.m. to 7 p.m. weekdays; however, if necessary, work outside these hours will be communicated in advance. We will provide advanced notice of any full road closures and we will continue to monitor noise and vibration and post the reports at www.gotransit.com/gts
